Supporters

Artlink is generously supported by the Visual Arts and Craft Strategy, an initiative of the Australian, State and Territory Governments. We gratefully acknowledge the support of the Australian Government through the Australia Council for the Arts, its arts funding and advisory body; the Restart Investment to Sustain and Expand (RISE) Fund – an Australian Government initiative; The Gordon Darling Foundation and the Government of South Australia. Artlink is also supported by Creative Partnerships Australia through Plus1.

At a glance

Published April, August and December (RRP: $20).

Online reviews and featured content promoted via our subscriber list and social media channels.

Our unique themed issues present a dynamic discourse around exhibitions, contemporary culture and ideas. They enjoy a long shelf life and continue to sell well as backlist titles.

A

Artlink has long-provided the edgiest, most dangerous reading on Australian art. It publishes the stuff that more polite magazines won't touch, and punches above its weight when it comes to criticism, argument and audacity.

Darren Jorgensen

Since its inception in 1981, as a modest black and white edition, Artlink has consistently engaged with emerging and mid-career artists. It has focussed on experimental practices and the latest developments within the field. It has also stressed the social issues that impact artists, especially in relation to Indigenous art, gender equality and diversity.

Anne Marsh

For my money, Artlink Magazine has always represented access, value and relevance.

Meryl Ryan

Who is reading Artlink?

Artists, arts workers, curators and consumers of art, tastemakers, cultural leaders and travellers looking for informed analysis and insights into the latest developments in contemporary art.

Artlink is an invaluable resource for students, educators and researchers, with significant reach into schools and universities through libraries, and curriculum reading lists.

Stockists include art gallery and museum retail outlets, book stores and newsagents. Digital distribution via the Artlink App, Flipster (EBSCO), and Informit (RMIT). PDF subscriptions are also available via the Artlink online store.
